Meg O'Brien

Manager

Meg joined MDD Forensic Accountants' New York office in 2018. She is a Manager at the firm.

Meg has worked on assignments across most of our practice areas concentrating on business interruption, builders' risk and soft costs claims, contingency claims & entertainment claims, cyber risks, contingent BI & extra expense, product liability & product recall and stock and content losses. She is also actively involved in the catastrophe services area, quantifying economic damages resulting from Covid-19 and natural disasters, including hurricanes Irma, Maria & Ida, California Wildfires, Tennessee tornados, and the 2021 freeze in Texas.

Her industry experience includes hospitality and tourism, construction, sports, entertainment & the arts, professional services, pharmaceuticals, power generation, and manufacturing, specializing in complex integrated processes, architectural float glass, and niche manufacturing markets.

Meg has assisted with discovery demands, mediation, deposition, & trial preparation.

She received her Bachelor of Science in Accounting & Master of Business Administration in Public Accounting from SUNY Oswego.
