

Edward Steele, Sr.

Senior Manager/Technical Advisor

Edward joined MDD Forensic Accountants' New York office in 2025. He is a Senior Manager/Technical Advisor in our global cyber practice. With extensive experience in incident response and vendor management, Edward excels in navigating complex cyber threats, including ransomware negotiations, recovery, digital forensics, and crypto investigations.

He provides critical support to insurance carriers by reviewing restoration expenses and advising on technical aspects of cyber claims. Beyond his deep technical acumen, Edward brings a wealth of knowledge in strategic partnerships, sales, and business development across various tech industries.

Edward brings a new service offering to MDD, enabling us to provide enhanced technical support specifically tailored for our carrier clients.

Examples of reviews Edward can assist with include:

- Reviewing system and data restoration expenses
- Advising on betterment considerations
- Commenting on the period of restoration
- Addressing any other technical issues related to cyber claims

His certifications include TRM Certified Investigator (TRM-CI), TRM Crypto Certification (TRM-CFC) and CompTIA Security+ Certification.
