

Liability Losses

When an event causes damage, injures people, or prevents access to surrounding areas for an extended period, it's essential to identify the financial impact for those affected. That's why so many companies turn to MDD.

MDD has worked on behalf of clients worldwide to quantify liability losses. When you hire us, MDD will work with you to create checklists and documentation requests to help you thoroughly examine all aspects of the event and make an informed decision.

When clients ask for our help with liability matters, we will:

- Analyze and verify financial and operating records
- Assess and record all physical damages
- Track and measure all post-event happenings such as clean-up processes and decontamination procedures
- Analyze lost profits claims through the examination of financial and operational records
- Identify and calculate extra expenses
- Explore products recall and disposal expenses
- Analyze all costs related to product rehabilitation and re-establishment expenses
- Measure losses stemming from alleged professional negligence
- Expert and consulting witness testimony when necessary

To ensure a reasonable, accurate and complete measurement of your liability losses, hire MDD.
